How is network layer addressing accomplished in the OSI protocol suite?

- A. Media Access Control address
- B. Internet Protocol address
- C. Network Service Access Point address
- D. Packet Layer Protocol address
- E. Authority and Format Identifier address

Answer: C

Explanation:

OSI network-layer addressing is implemented by using two types of hierarchical addresses: network service access-point addresses and network-entity titles.

A network service-access point (NSAP) is a conceptual point on the boundary between the network and the transport layers.

The NSAP is the location at which OSI network services are provided to the transport layer.

Each transport-layer entity is assigned a single NSAP, which is individually addressed in an OSI internetwork using NSAP addresses.

Network Service Address Point (NSAP) address is the equivalent of an IP address for an OSI network; A NSAP address is a hexadecimal address with a length of up to 40 hexadecimal digits. NSAP addresses are used in ATM and IS-IS.
